5.8.2 Exchange Programs: Implementation

1. Procedures for Stanford Students Applying to Study at Another University through the IvyPlus Exchange Scholar Program

PROCESS STEPS | RESPONSIBILITY
--- | ---
1. Discusses the appropriateness of exchange study at another institution (note participating institutions in Policy) and the value to the student’s academic progress. | Student and advisor
2. Identifies an appropriate faculty advisor at the potential host institution. | Student and advisor
3. Downloads a copy of the IvyPlus Exchange Scholar Program Application [1]. Reads the application carefully, and gathers all necessary signatures. | Student
4. Reviews the IvyPlus Exchange Scholar Program Application and discusses all aspects of the arrangement with the student and the student’s advisor. Signs the application to indicate concurrence. | Stanford Department
5. Reviews the IvyPlus Exchange Scholar Program Application, signs and maintains a copy of the agreement.
   Stanford School Dean's Office

6. Provides the signed application form to the Graduate Admissions Office at least two months before the registration deadline at the host institution.
   Student

7. Contacts the host institution to receive written acceptance or denial of the Stanford student, and provides a copy to the Stanford student.
   Graduate Admissions

8. If the student is not at TGR status, informs the Graduate Admissions Office of the number of units in which the student would have enrolled if at Stanford (8-10 or 11+) in order to determine appropriate Stanford tuition.
   Stanford Department

9. Registers the outgoing Stanford student in the category of Exchange Scholar.
   Graduate Admissions

10. Completes academic requirements, pays tuition and fees to Stanford.
    NOTE: If student is in TGR status at Stanford, continues to enroll in the appropriate TGR course during each Stanford quarter of the exchange. If not at TGR status, Stanford tuition will be determined by Graduate Admissions based on information provided by the student’s home department (see step 8, above).
    Student

11. Upon completion of each term, requests transcript from host institution to be sent to Stanford Graduate Admissions Office. If the student wants the units completed to be recorded on their Stanford transcript, the Application for Graduate Residency Credit [2] must also be submitted.
    Student

12. Coordinates with the Office of the University Registrar to add appropriate units to the student’s Stanford transcript.
    NOTE: Units earned via this Exchange Scholar program are counted as Stanford units (as opposed to being counted as transfer units) for the purpose of satisfying Stanford residency requirements. The institution attended, units awarded and the Exchange Program status are reflected on the Stanford transcript.
    Graduate Admissions

Enrolls in a minimum of four units at Stanford.

Tuition is based off of total enrollment from both schools.

If the student is not at TGR status, informs the Office of the University Registrar of the number of units in which the student would have enrolled if at Stanford (8-10 or 11 +) in order to determine appropriate Stanford tuition. Note that all semester units from Berkeley are converted into quarter units.

Updates student record to reflect their exchange status. Then submits final application to the UC institution for processing and registration.

Student should receive two emails: one from Stanford and one from the UC institution indicating that the application was accepted.

Completes academic requirements, pays tuition and fees to Stanford.

NOTE: If student is in TGR status at Stanford, continues to enroll in the appropriate TGR course during each Stanford quarter of the exchange. If not at TGR status, Stanford tuition will be determined by based on information provided by the student (see step 6, above).

Upon completion of each term, requests transcript from UC institution to be sent to Stanford's Office of the University Registrar. If the student wants the units completed to be recorded on their Stanford transcript, the Application for Graduate Residency Credit [2] must also be submitted.

Once the final transcript is received from the UC institution, adds appropriate units to the student’s Stanford transcript.

NOTE: Units earned via this exchange program are counted as Stanford units (as opposed to being counted as transfer units) for the purpose of satisfying Stanford residency requirements. The institution attended, units awarded and the Exchange Program status are reflected on the Stanford transcript.
